Bay High News

May 16th will be Registration Day in the three primary centers in the Bay St. Louis Public School System for beginning students for the season 1957-58. Registration will continue throughout the day for all students who will be entering either the Bay High Center, primary grade, Webb School and Woodland Center.

Students must have reached their sixth birthday prior to January 1st in order to be enrolled for next year's work. This registration is being made in order that preparations may be made to hold classes in first grade down to thirty or less pupils. The falling of parents to register their children on this date may mean that there will not be a place for them in September.

First grade teachers will be free on this day to devote time to discussion of new students with parents in order that they may be familiar with the child when they come to school in September. Please be sure that your child is registered at one of the three primary centers on May 16th.

"I traced excellent in Hendersonburg and will go to the State center at Bellevue College in Jackson, Tuesday, May 4," declared Class Key Master, James, who represented Bay High School at the Hendersonburg College, Hendersonburg, Class Key was accompanied by Miss Alma Parker, English instructor and department chair.

Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Padden, Mary Ann Padden, Jackson, and Class Key went to Pascagoula on April 15th. Class Key participated in the District 8 Declaration and acceptance ceremony by giving a reading entitled "A Pleasant Hour on the Beach" by Marjorie Rosen Cooks. Mary Ann took part in the District 8 "Pine Cone" contest, raising $100.00. Class Key read Superior, which permitted her to participate in Hendersonburg.

The Valedictorian is selected from the Senior Class. This honor is based upon the student who has the highest average for four years in high school. The second highest average for four years in high school was Thomas Hill. He is a selection for the Senior Class.

Three hundred called during the late afternoon hours.

CANDIDATES FOR A PROGRESSIVE ADMINISTRATION

GEORGE L. HESTERMAN JOE H. HESTERMAN RUSSELL J. ELLIOTT

"OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS"

Candidates for a SINCERE, HONEST AND PROGRESSIVE ADMINISTRATION are knocking at your door offering you the opportunity our City has so sorely needed for many years.

Please examine this article very carefully and then ask yourself "What has the present administration done for you towards bringing industry into Your Community?"

Amongst the present City Council was sincere in their efforts to accomplish improvements and bring industry into our community it is unfortunate that their initiative and ability towards the community was not sufficient. It is also unfortunate that the majority of the people did not have the confidence and belief in the present administration, and, also the relationship of the Administration towards the voters was such that it prevented the harmony and support needed to produce advancement of the community. However in a report from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce of what can be accomplished with only one small factory employing 180 workers, THIS ONE FACTORY WILL RESULT IN THE FOLLOWING:

The growth which advancement in our community, we will work in accordance with the MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE and be governed WILLINGLY BY THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE, holding no malice towards anyone who has not been successful; nor be led to express any feelings of discontent or dissatisfaction towards the will of the majority.

Making allowance for the present administration and overlooking all their errors, we still have no industry nor do we have any evidence of any definite plans having been made to establish any industries in the future, during the four years administration of the present City Council.

IS THIS ONE OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS THEY BOAST OF?

We know industry can be brought to our Community by a sincere effort. If you will take time to examine the accomplishments of our General Cities and the much smaller communities within our State you can readily see what can be achieved with a little effort.

With such splendid assistance being offered under the RAIN Program and the many small businesses anxious to locate in the downtown, we humbly state that an industrial program can become a reality.

The progress of a Community depends solely on its resources. We believe the greatest resources of any Community are its people; but if the People are not given an opportunity to help advance the industrial movement forward by the State of Mississippi, then certainly, the progressive development of a Community is hampered.

Since 1945, OUR COMMUNITY HAS GROWN AND NEW industrial manufacturers located in the State of Mississippi. In the year 1945, alone NINETY THOUSAND new and expanded plants located in our State. Six out of these new industries have been brought to our community. Our community has been able to employ any of these facilities which further the progress of the place where they are located. In every community, guided by able and sincere leadership, have achieved ECONOMIC STABILITY by bringing to the location to participate under the Balance Agriculture with Industry Plan as recommended by the State of Mississippi.

McDonnell was also overruled

When he attempted to introduce into the record a statement purporting to show that "three witnesses had already made up their minds for the state in the March 1957 trial."

Judge Goss further stated "The court should proceed with great caution in admitting hearsay evidence. Whether hearsay is admitted or not, it is likely to be accompanied by perjury and will always require careful, conservative, and fearless exercise of judgment in weighing the proofs so that the rights of the prisoner and the interest of the public may be safeguarded."

McDonnell, present at the hearing, appeared bored and listless and chain smoked cigarettes. He was returned to Harrison County Jail following the hearing.

Picture Highlights of Joint Seafood Meeting

As shown left, where the two seafood commissions agreed camp at the mouth of Three Oaks Bay and roughly midway between Cape Cod and Nantuxet Bay, several camps to be used continuously on a 24-hour basis by commission inspectors R. J. Ladd and Thomas (shown center), established to supervise and control oyster gathering and protection of the huge five mile long and a half mile wide oyster reef which lies off the mouth of Three Oaks Bay (shown right). The oyster bed is entirely man made and extends from the Louisiana line off Cape St. Joe Bay, and parallels the coast to the mouth of Nantuxet Bay. Over 100,000 barrels of oyster are harvested from the reef, and its yield is reaching fruition after less than five years from its start.

should increase tenfold each successive year for a good many years to come. During the season, as many as sixty to seventy commercial oyster dredging boats a day were working the reef. A similar man-made reef for tonging, has been built by the Commission off Pass Christian. Seafood Commission Chairman, Walter Cox, Jr., stated that the commission is presently experimenting with eight plots, of one to two acres each, off the mouth of Stinging River at Pascagoula with a view to establishing another large reef if natural conditions there permit. The site of the first reef, off Three Oaks Bay, was selected five years ago by the Seafood Commission's biological advisor, Dr. A. Hopkins, 'world famous authority on oysters, as being the most favorable area on the Mississippi coast for producing them. After Dr. Hopkins' death a few years ago, the work proceeded under the advice of Dr. Gordon Gutter, his successor and another internationally known oyster authority.

Walter Cox, Jr., (l.), State Seafood Commission Chairman, shows Pat McCord, Secy., Director of the State Game and Fish Commission, the fine quality oysters being grown in our beds in Mississippi Sound.

Walter James Phillips, State Representative from Hancock County, and Commissioner W. E. McIntyre, Jr., of the State Game and Fish Commission, talk over wildlife problem on the trip.

Of the two Commissions are shown above Seafood Commission's boat, Ursula, size being up sample oysters for their inspection.

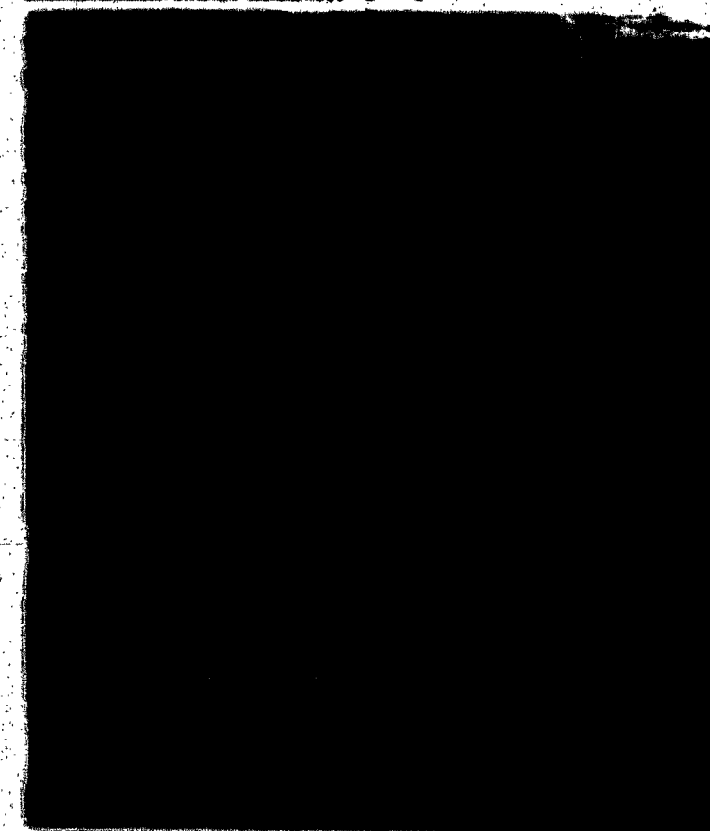

The oyster boat's outfit and the most recent survey of the oyster ground were made by the commission's patrol boat chief, shown here, were highlights of the trip long to be remembered by all.

Capt. Deltava and R. Dyer, Men of the Seafood Commission boat George R. Smith.

Shown below in the Mississippi Seafood Commission Patrol Boat Ursula, on which the only war-made. Members of the two commissions are working dredging operations for sample oyster specimens. The Ursula is used by the commission in many operations connected with reef planting and enforcement activities.

WHO WILL GET YOUR WOOLIES THIS SUMMER...

The 1967 Mod of Cotton, Miss Helen London, has been in the sun in January's princess-head style and is now in the sun in the "backless" style. The suit, of Cotton Evergreen printed cotton, has wide straps over the shoulders that reach to a shirred, elasticated back. The matching trench peignoir is also reached with decorative embroidery. Pique-style model.

WHEN you're measuring a head to turn up on someone, use a monkey wrench! The wrench will hold the headstock steadily as you pin and as the wrench turns. Crispy Snack Stars in Variety of "Snack Star" Shapes

When in "snack time" at your house? Choose one it's as often as your family's all-American appetite dictates—which is almost any time anybody is awake. You're a wise housewife if you keep "the snack" with handy reach on the pantry shelf, ready for quick-and-easy preparation. And one of the basic supplies you'll always find in your kitchen is a box of Crispy Snack Stars. They make a wonderful base for French Fries or Cheese Fritters. . . they're delicious "as is" with juices, hot soups and salads. . . and they're favorite location-school nibbling, spread with cheese or peanut butter. Dress them up with a fancy mix, like this new one for "Crispy Snack Stars", and—poor—, you have the perfect party treat. Here's the way to do it:

- CRISPY SNACK STARS
- 1 cup finely-minced cooked or canned salmon or chicken
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground onion
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 - 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
 - 24 Snacks Crispy Fritters
- Combine the salmon or chicken with onion, salt, parsley and mayonnaise. Place a tablespoon of mixture in center of each of

The Money Trees

One of the most pronounced changes in our thinking in recent years, in this Gulf Coast country has been our attitude toward trees.

We once thought our cut-over lands could serve little more than as a dumping ground for pitch laden stumps and for open-range grazing, but we are learning that trees are a top crop that requires only a minimum of care. Keep out the fires, give the sun and rain a chance to work, and with a reasonable amount of replanting, nature performs her magic. With the utilization of pine for paper making, pulpwood can be gathered during periodic thinnings and foresters tell us this Gulf Coast country is the only place in the world where trees large enough to harvest may be grown in fifteen years.

On some cut-over lands scientific showed operators are expecting an annual and perennial return of from 15% to 25% on their investment.

South Mississippi is primarily tree country. Pecan and long trees thrive where a few years ago there was a primeval forest.

Interest in reforestation has increased to such an extent that already there have been applications for 3,000,000 pine seedlings in Harrison County filed with the county agent. Last year there were fewer forest fires than ever before. Even old-time woods burners realize the rich possibilities of reforestation and are cooperating to give nature a chance to cover our denuded wastelands with new growth.

Money does grow on trees in South Mississippi and farmers as well as lumbermen know that millions of acres, once believed to be of little value, can easily produce a permanent cash crop.

When nature designed this part of the world she wisely designated it for forest purposes. Apparently she must have known what she was doing. With a little encouragement and cooperation nature can again make this the land of whispering pines and perpetual prosperity.
